Panel Completed To-day, but Peremptory Challenges May Cause New Vacancies—Evelyn Thaw Chief Factor in Selecting the Jurymen.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—At the finish of to-day's forenoon session of the trial of Harry K. Thaw for the killing of Stanford White there were twelve men in the jury box, six of whom were subject to peremptory challenge.

This is the third time since the case was called for a second trial that the jury box has been filled. It was expected that some of the six tentative jurors would be eliminated later. With this prospect in view even, those connected with the case were well pleased with the progress made.

That Thaw, himself, as well as his wife Evelyn are in accord with their chief lawyer, Martin W. Latham, in his defense on the ground of insanity, was shown plainly to-day when Charles H. Thurston was being interrogated as to his stress for jury duty.

EVELYN PICKS A JUROR.
The ten possible insanity jury doctors Thaw was asked to select. Thaw turned his head and caught the eye of his wife with a searching look. She nodded in the affirmative and Thurston was accepted. He took chair No. 11. Later John H. Hart was chosen as the seventh man. He is an architect.

It developed that prominent juror Thaw had selected a juror during one of the last days of the trial. Thaw had selected a juror during one of the last days of the trial. Thaw had selected a juror during one of the last days of the trial.

"Genius of the Thaw Tragedy"

Artist Casey in this remarkable study of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw summarizes the whole of the drama whose culminating act is laid in the New York Criminal Court. It shows the cause and the effect. Evelyn Thaw, for whom Harry Thaw took the life of Stanford White, and who is now the dominant factor in the effort to save Harry Thaw from death.

TEACHER'S CASE GOES BEFORE SCHOOL BOARD

The case of Miss Ellen T. Griswold, who was removed from her position as teacher in the Boston Girls Latin School by Superintendent of Schools Brocke because of alleged insubordination and hostility to the school committee.

The whole question will then be before the school board for the first time before the school committee, although the old board passed on the matter last month and upheld Superintendent Brocke.

According to James P. Maguire and Dr. David Seaman, the two members of the Brocke board, the question will involve proper procedure when it comes up.

Parents of pupils in the Latin School are petitioning the school committee for a public hearing, asking that Miss Griswold be reinstated.

What Board Members Say.

Mr. Maguire said to a BOSTON AMERICAN reporter:

"Believing that this question was coming before the School Board, I have refrained from reading anything about the case in order that my mind might be as unclouded as possible."

David A. Ellis, another member of the school committee, said that the transfer of Miss Griswold was approved, and that the school committee had no right to do otherwise.

"I don't know anything about the merits of the case and will know all the facts before I form an opinion as to whether or not Miss Griswold should be reinstated. When the matter comes before the school board it will receive proper consideration."

Mr. Maguire said that the school committee had no right to do otherwise.

Will Move to Defeat Members.

George F. Brocke, president of the Hamilton and today's "Miss Griswold" transfer has disappeared as all regular members of the board in signing the petition asking that she be reinstated. Many prominent members of the board will attend the hearing of the school board, the first of which the Griswold matter is to be considered.

Three Weeks' IS NOT BARRED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9. Mrs. Ellen T. Griswold, who was removed from her position as teacher in the Boston Girls Latin School by Superintendent of Schools Brocke because of alleged insubordination and hostility to the school committee, is not barred from the school for three weeks, as was reported.

Mr. Maguire said that the school committee had no right to do otherwise.

DENOUNCE SNAP VOTE TO SELL TOWN LIGHT TO TRUST

NEDHAM CITIZENS ENRAGED AT PROPOSED DELIVERY OF PLANT TO EDISON COMPANY.

NEDHAM, Jan. 8.—A snap vote passed tonight at a town meeting, held at eight o'clock, to sell the town's electric lighting plant to the Edison Company. The Edison Company of Boston has agreed to acquire the plant.

James Kelly, one of the town's most prominent citizens, was present at the meeting, the first of the kind since the town's incorporation. He was one of the speakers, and his remarks were very much to the point. He said that the town's electric lighting plant was a public utility, and that it should be sold to the public, not to a private company. He said that the Edison Company was a monopoly, and that it would be a disgrace to sell the town's plant to it. Several weeks since one of the most dependable of the manufacturers supplying Chandler & Co. with their special qualities in Fine Suits and Garments made them a proposition involving the purchase of every Suit, Garment and Dress remaining in his stock, including the imported models from which they were made.

The proposition was a very large one, but Chandler & Co. believed it could be brought to a successful issue provided the purchase price was low enough to enable them to offer at once to the ladies of Boston.

The largest assortment and lowest range of values hitherto known in a sale of the very highest class of Ladies' Apparel.

The stipulation was that they should be able to offer the entire purchase, regardless of the original values, Imported Models and all, at just two prices, and that these two prices should be 25.00 and 35.00. After much negotiation and emphatic protest by the manufacturer at so low a price for his best merchandise the sale was consummated, and together with additional offerings from Chandler & Co.'s own stock, at the same prices, the entire purchase offered is

BILL TO ROB THE LEAGUE OF SECOND PARTY RIGHTS

Representative Frost's New Bill
Planned to Deprive 75,498 of Their Rights.

The first visible intimation that some members of the present "Non-Partisan" House of Representatives would seek to rob the wishes of the 75,498 Massachusetts voters who broke away from the trustful organizations at the State election and voted the Independence League ticket for Governor, comes in the filing of a bill by Representative Frost.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is In Preserving Health and Beauty.

Cost Nothing To Try.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the cause and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectively clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It shortens the injurious course which relief in the stomach and bowels; it disinfests the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless substances in tablet form or rather in the form of large pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but, on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some cases a natural preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal lozenges."

THE BOSTON AMERICAN

50 AND 52 SUMMER ST., BOSTON, JANUARY 9, 1908

WHAT MAKES SUCCESS

By Mr. La Petra, a Man Who Knows
Copyright, 1908, by American Journal Company

Whenever we hear a good definition of advertising, or any good suggestion about it, we repeat the definition or suggestion for the benefit of our readers.

Mr. H. A. La Petra is known to every advertising man and to every newspaper in the United States. He has been for years the dynamo of one of the biggest successes in the United States. He said yesterday, looking out of his high window: "There are just three things in advertising if you want to reach any American city and the rest of the United States, and, for that matter, the whole world."

"First, put your advertisement where it will be seen."

"Second, write it so that people will read it."

"Third, tell the truth, so that people will believe it."

"That's the whole of advertising."

That's not only the whole of ADVERTISING, it's also a description of successful mental effort generally.

Whether you are advertising something to be eaten or worn, or whether you are trying to spread among the people ideas that you think of value, the rule is the same.

Put your announcement where people will SEE it. Write it so that they will READ it agreeably and without effort. Tell the truth, so that they will BELIEVE it.

In this money-making age, it will add interest to Mr. La Petra's words if we tell our readers that the business of which he has been the speaking and organizing mind for many years earns two or three millions of dollars a year at least.

Small merchants who are trying to reach the millions of people around them, and big merchants who want to reach near millions, may think profitably on Mr. La Petra's three rules.

Editors, statesmen, thinkers, who believe that they have a message for the people worth telling, may also study these three rules profitably. It's comparatively easy to write the truth—for a sincere man. It's not easy to write it so that people will READ it. If they don't read it, of course they can't believe it. Unfortunately, it's not always possible for the best men, in the beginning especially, to get their ideas where the people will see them.

Our readers, we hope, know that our purpose in pushing the circulation of this newspaper by every possible worthy device has been to obtain FOR THIS COLUMN, and for the other columns which contain statements of belief, a position that all the world must see.

We have accomplished that much anyhow.

What is in the BOSTON AMERICAN is SEEN. This fact was discovered recently by the advertising manager of a standard, high-priced publication which only people with considerable money could afford to buy and which only people with more than the average amount of brains would want.

This man prepared a statement, which he put as an advertisement in the BOSTON AMERICAN, and also in a "very high-class Boston newspaper, known not only in New England but throughout the United States for the exclusive character of its readers."

His mail which was to bring the answers from these advertisements came in. From the "very high-class Boston newspaper" he got eleven answers and sold eight sets of books. From the announcement in this newspaper he got seventy-two answers and sold sixty-two sets of books.

The BOSTON AMERICAN, as this advertiser and other able business men have discovered, has solved the problem of MAKING THE PEOPLE SEE ITS COLUMNS. We are able to put things where every body will see them.

Whether or not we have yet succeeded in writing out statements so that people will BELIEVE it, we leave our readers to say.

If we have not succeeded, we are going to try until we DO succeed. And, incidentally, we are going to fix this BOSTON AMERICAN so that those who see it in future will be even more numerous than those who see it now.

Four hundred thousand a day, every day in the year, is the minimum circulation that we aim at.

If you will help, we'll get it.

We have passed that four hundred thousand occasionally. We have been over 350,000 a great many times. We can do the four hundred thousand every day as a minimum if we can carry out Mr. La Petra's simple recommendation—make people SEE it, tell so they will READ it, make the truth plain so they will BELIEVE it.

And, with the same simple rules, YOU can succeed with any business or with any idea that interests YOU.

Comforts of the Sea

By C. B. Quincy

A sailor ship is to be established aboard an Atlantic liner

It, however, I'll say at sea upon an endless trip.

I wouldn't land again and leave the comforts of a ship.

The land is full of criminals and brawling men; come ashore.

Aboard my crimson liner there's no one breaks the peace.

No quarrel, no row, no "I" nor "me" nor "you" nor "we".

The only sound that tells us is the murmur of the deep.

When tired of breathing space I seek a quiet room.

And the un-Corrupted library supplies me with a book.

The picture gallery is art, the theatre is fine.

Museum is a corner, conservatory divine.

There's something everywhere that's new and different.

The aquarium, university and science building, too.

And sport is not forgotten; there's a pretty baseball team.

A golf course, and a croquet field; that's just a mile away.

There's a polo and there's football, and a famous skating rink.

And a country club that's handy for a dinner or a drink.

The museum's section's growing, the office buildings soar.

Above the drug stores and banks where the trades of traffic soar.

There's dry goods stores and jewelers and architects and tailors.

And butchers, bakers, lawyers; most everything but sailors.

There's everything they've got on land upon my favorite ship.

So that's why I have left the shore upon an endless trip.

It is a curious and pathetic story of one divorcee.

It is easy to read between the lines the story of days, weeks and months of restlessness and of the continual longing for pleasure which assails the heart of youth as hunger assails the body when deprived of sustenance.
